Describe this invention in your own words.:

The invention generally relates to the reselling of a recently purchased item by reposting the item on a selling site for resale. During the process of reposting, the price is changed. Emphasis for the search should be placed on claims 24-25, which require that the updated record for the item "indicates that said good is awaiting an auction date" (24) and further indicating that "the good is not to be visible in the marketplace until a future auction date" (25).
